DETAILED ACTION

Preliminary Amendment Received

1. Acknowledgement is made of the receipt of the Preliminary Amendments filed on July 30, 2003.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 19-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The following limitations lack antecedent basis:

"the device" (line 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2, 9, 16, 23-24, 26-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by Castelli et al. (U.S.6,412,907)

Re claims 1 and 23, Castelli (fig. 7) discloses elements of the instant claimed media feed measurement method and system (110) adapted to identify media features (characterized by marks 250) at first and second locations (characterized by first line and second line at locations in first or second printing swath) spaced apart by a first distance (characterized by first distance between first lines and second lines of first and second printing swath) along a media feed path, the system being arranged during a feed operation to identify a first then a second feature at the first location and subsequently to identify those features at the second location, the features being spaced apart along the feed path by a second distance substantially less than the first distance (because the spacing between marks 250 can be varied col.6, lines 18-19, second distances between first lines and second lines of first and second printing swath in Castelli can be different accordingly), the system being arranged to determine a given media feed distance in dependence upon the first and the second distance (see col.7, lines 23-67).

Re claims 2, 24, wherein the first and second features are selected such that when the second feature is identified at the second location (characterized by second line location in first or second printing swath), the first feature is substantially located at predetermined position (characterized by first line location in first or second printing swath).

Re claim 9, wherein the feed operation is arranged to feed the media between one and two times the length of the first distance (at least one length of the first distance corresponding to lines between first and second printing swaths; col.7, lines 23-65).

Re claim 16, wherein media feed measurement system is associated with a scanning inkjet printer (see abstract).

Re claim 26, the media feed step further comprises the step of feeding the media a fine adjustment distance, in dependence upon the step of determining (as described in col.7, lines 54-60)

Re claim 27, wherein a computer program comprising program code means for performing the method step associated with the system (col.10, lines 26-32).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 3-8, 10-15, 17-18, and 25 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. Claims 19-22 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Pertinent Prior art

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
